Experience

Founder CEO and Full-Stack Developer

Sizable Media Norrköping, Sweden, 2015–Ongoing

My company provides programming services to companies and sells electronic components. I have created my own e-commerce system and I also manage everything from software development to accounting and customer service.

Education

Bachelor Studies in Programming

Linköping University, Sweden, 2016–2018

The bachelor program focused on computer science and programming. Through the program, I learned several programming languages and the basics of computer system design. I dropped the program after three semesters to focus more on my business.
